Dear Mr. President Joe Biden:

As you are aware the region of Northwest of Syria has been hit with a powerful earthquake this past Monday. We highly and sincerely appreciate directing your admin to act immediately to assist in recovery and rescue efforts. USAID have urgently deployed a rescue team. However, these American heroes have not been able to reach the affected (regime liberated) NW Syrian region across the border from Turkey. This region is home for over 3 millions of displaced Syrians fled for their lives from brutality of Assad regime. Furthermore, there are multiple on ground confirmed and reliable reports, indicating that the Turkish government is not allowing border crossing of several aids and rescue mission to cross into this regime-liberated NW Syria. This practice of Turkish government is not acceptable under any excuse, argument or pretext. The roads are passable, aids trucks are awaiting at the border, and even helicopters can be immediately flown to this effected region. It seems that this affected NW Syria as if is under a blockade. This is a humanitarian crisis. The catastrophe is massive and beyond description. Victims buried under the collapsed building. We urgent you please to direct your administration to press hard and pressure their Turkish counterparts to immediately open the border crossings. Rescue teams can not be delayed. Aids must cross now and immediately.

God Bless you and our nation. And God bless our rescuing heroes.
